

Empowering Bangladesh's Global Supply Chains: BloqSens AG and ProKnoWara Form Strategic Partnership for DPP-Implementation

Biel/Bienne, Switzerland, 17 February 2026 – BloqSens AG is thrilled to announce the strategic partnership with ProKnoWara Consulting Firm by signing a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU). This collaboration is dedicated to advancing the deployment of the EU Digital Product Passport (DPP) and ensuring regulatory readiness for manufacturing ecosystems in Bangladesh and beyond.

Navigating the evolving landscape of EU regulations - including ESPR, CSRD, and PPWR - is a significant challenge for global manufacturers. As a Swiss-based DPP Service Provider, BloqSens AG is committed to simplifying this journey. By pairing our secure data architecture with ProKnoWara's local implementation leadership, we transform complex regulatory requirements into practical, scalable, and future-ready digital systems.

A Joint Commitment to Practical Compliance

The partnership focuses on bridging the gap between digital standards and day-to-day manufacturing operations. Together, BloqSens and ProKnoWara will focus on:

- Pilot Deployments: Launching practical pilot programs to demonstrate the real-world utility of DPP systems for factories and global brands.

- Scalable DPP Infrastructure: Deploying secure digital identities and data architectures that meet strict EU standards for data integrity, interoperability and sovereignty.
- Operational Readiness: Assisting manufacturers in building the necessary product and material data foundations required for compliance.
- Market Access: Strengthening the competitive edge of manufacturers by ensuring they meet future market access requirements through verified transparency.

Engineering Trust and Transparency

By integrating BloqSens' traceability and secure digital identity technology with ProKnoWara's deep consulting reach across 500+ manufacturers, the collaboration offers a unique "end-to-end" approach.

"For BloqSens, this partnership is a significant step in making the Digital Product Passport a practical reality on a global scale," says Peter Krummenacher, CEO of BloqSens AG.

"By combining our Swiss-engineered digital architecture with ProKnoWara's local implementation leadership, we are bridging the gap between European regulatory standards and international manufacturing operations. Our goal is to move beyond compliance awareness towards operational systems that foster trust and verifiable transparency across the entire global value chain."

Looking Ahead

BloqSens AG and ProKnoWara are committed to supporting the textile manufacturing sector that is not only compliant with EU regulations but also future-ready in terms of benefits which the DPP provides. We look forward to providing updates on our progress in the coming months.
